Hiking in Utah

The best way to experience the diverse landscapes of Utah is by hiking through them. Utah has some very remote areas that are accessible only to serious backpackers, but routes to other stunningly beautiful scenes are merely "pleasant walks."

Fishing in Utah

Utah is well known for excellent trout fishing in high mountain lakes and streams. The state offers a wide variety of other exciting fishing opportunities, including trophy lake trout that weigh in at over 40 pounds, ferocious tiger muskie, striped bass so plentiful they have removed the limit, unique and hard-fighting wipers, plus quality waters for walleye, largemouth, smallmouth, white bass, perch, crappie, channel catfish and several other species. Fishing is open year-round on most waters.

Snowmobiling

Are you an experienced snowmobiler looking for backcountry play areas? Utah's got some of the best in the world! If you have your own machines, bring them up and enjoy sledding on our top-rated trails. Or do you just want to rent machines for a day and let a guide take you on a scenic tour along a well-groomed trail? Utah's got that too! If you are here on a ski vacation, or for any other reason, consider taking a day (or even a half-day) and enjoying a snowmobile adventure.

Snowshoeing

Snowshoeing is for everyone who likes walking, hiking, snow, and pretty winter scenery. If you don't like any of those things, you probably should go back to whatever the heck you do during Utah's long winter months (snow falls from September to May, sometimes June, in the mountains).

Canoeing, Paddlboarding or Kayaking in Utah

Canoeing and kayaking allows people of all ages and varied abilities to experience paddling the serenity of calm water or the challenge of maneuvering whitewater. A trip to southern Utah can offer multiple opportunities for canoeing and kayaking. Whether you choose a day trip on the Colorado River, a multiple day escape on the Green River, or a splash on beautiful Lake Powell, you are bound to experience eye catching geology, abundant bird life, mysterious rock art, and perhaps even catch a glimpse of a herd of Desert Bighorn sheep. There are several rivers and reservoirs in Northern Utah as well to explore.
